Prairie Hospice Society is a charitable, non-profit community organization working to ensure access to compassionate, community-based, end-of-life support in Saskatoon. Our goal is to enhance quality of life at the end of life, wherever people call home. We provide one-on-one companionship and non-medical support such as rides and respite for clients and their families, raise awareness, educate the community about end-of-life care, and advocate for quality end-of-life care.

Ana Gheysen, MPS, CCC-Q

The Hospice at Glengarda provides a warm and welcoming place for us and our family members to walk through life's final journey. It was built by the community to serve the people of Saskatoon and surrounding areas. Our care is for the whole person: physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, and social. The interdisciplinary team includes nurses, physicians, care aides, social worker, support staff and holistic care, including spiritual care, music therapy, arts and recreation therapy. The hospice is designed for adults requiring end-of-life care in the last two to three months of progressive illness or disease, focused on meticulous, holistic comfort care.
